Reservation of posts in government services is a broad and infamous subject. The basis of reservation was always to bring every class of people on equal footing mainly on financial and social aspects. So the basis and limit of reservation should still be the financial status as discrimination on caste and class level has been decreased but financial gap has been increased from past recent years.

an appellate court remanding a case to an inferior court cannot confer jurisdiction on court if it inherently lacked the same.

Ques 4

A suit is of civil nature if the principal question therein relates to the determination of a civil right and its enforcement.

It is subject matter of suit which determines whether it is suit of civil nature or not.

In a suit in which right to property or to an office is contested whether it is of civil nature or not, what needs to be determined is whether it entirely depends on religious rites or ceremonies or not?

If its decision does not entirely depends on religious rites or ceremonies it is a suit of civil nature.

Dear ma'am Greetings of the day! On a personal note, Edzorb law helped me a lot, rather it helped me immensely in my preparation. As we all know that standard books for the preparation are very bulky & language is also hard but the way Edzorb team has put effort to explain the concept through pictorial example which are related to our day to day life, thus making it very simple and easy to understand various provision. With regards to notes, I would contend that they are very simplified and provide in depth knowledge of every subject, one can never feel tired while studying. The best thing is the highlighted portion of it. To summarise The course, is very helpful for quick revision. Thank you EDZORB for your extreme efforts. With best regards Garvit dave

Internal aids to interpretation are those which may be contained in the statute itself forming a part of it. They are taken as an aid to interpretation whenever there is ambiguity in language of statute and meaning of words are not clear. Some of the internal aids to interpretation are -

Title. - It gives description of act.
- further divided into short title & long title

In Manoharlal v. State of Punjab - it was observed that scope of act can be decided with help of long title & help can be taken from it for interpretation

Preamble - it tell us about true intention of legislature for which act was enacted.

No A do not have any remedy against B as the promise of dropping prosecution against B by A in consideration of restoring articles is a void agreement. Its object is unlawful according sec- 23 of Indian contract Act thus the agreement is void and void agreement do not have any remedy.

→ mention all the grounds by law & if permitted

Ques 13

Generally limitation bars the remedy but does not extinguish the title. As the object of this limitation Act is to prevent rearing up of the claim with large gap of time when evidence are lost. It keeps the person in need to claim any remedy to be alert of its rights.

This act is based on maxims Vigilantibus non dormitibus qui silevuntur - which means law arrest the vigilant and vigilant and not those who sleep over its rights, and interest republicae ut sit finis litium - that is interest of state requires that a period should put an end to litigation.

However it only extinguishes the legal remedy but not the right. for example if a payment of time barred debt is made by debtor in ignorance, he cannot recall that on plea of debt that the debt was barred by limitation and creditor has no right to appropriate his debt payment made in ignorance of bar.

Nonetheless there is an exception to this rule Under sec-27 of the Act which bars both remedy and right if not

An undisclosed principal is a person who uses an agent for his negotiations with a third party, often when agent pretends to be acting for him. As a result third party does not know about real principal and consider agent as real principal.

According to Sec - 231, if an agent makes a contract with a person who neither knows, nor has reason to suspect that he is an agent, his principal has right to require performance of contract.

But the other contracting party has, as against principal same right as he would have had against the agent if he had been the principal.

However right to require performance of contract by undisclosed principal is subject to rights and obligations subsisting between the agent and the other party as per sec - 232.

of 9

Illustration - 'A' who owes 500 Rs to B, sells 1000 Rs worth of rice to B. A is acting as agent for C, in on the transaction, but B has no knowledge or reasonable ground of suspicion that such is case. C cannot compel 'B' to take the rice without allowing him to set off A's debt.

of undisclosed principal

Thus, before undisclosed principal may enforce any right or be liable for any obligation under a contract apparently made between the agent and third party, two conditions have to be met -

- 1) The agent must have actual authority, whether express or implied, to enter into the contract in question.
- 2) The agent on entering into contact with third party must have intended to act on behalf of undisclosed principal, nor for his own benefit.

Further - undisclosed principal remains liable to a third party for price of goods or services provided under the contract made in agent's name with third party.

Where identity of principal is disclosed, and third party is to take action for recovery of any amount payable to him in contract, he can elect to sue either agent or undisclosed principal.

There are cases where undisclosed principal may not be sue or be sued by third party under contract made between the agent in the agent's name & third party. Following are few examples of such cases-

1) A promise by agent to third party to lend money to agent personally cannot be enforced by an undisclosed principal.

2) A contract involving strictly personal skill or service cannot be performed by an undisclosed principal.

The law relating to exclusion of time in legal proceedings under limitation act is provided under Sec- 15. S. 12

It states that in computing period of limitation of :
• Institution of suit or execution of decree is stayed by injunction or order -
following time period shall be excluded
1. Time of continuance of injunction or order
2. Day on it was issued
3. Day of its withdrawal

- Suit for which notice has been given or previous sanction or consent of government or any authority is required - time required for such sanction or consent shall be excluded

Further its explanation provides that, in excluding the time, - date on which application was made & - date of receipt of order of government shall also be counted

- In any suit or application for execution of a decree by any receiver or interim receiver appointed in proceedings for adjudication of person as insolvent or by any liquidator appointed in proceeding for winding up of company - period of beginning with the date of institution of such proceeding and ending with expiry of 3 months from date of appointment of such receiver shall be excluded

- In suit for possession by purchaser at sale of execution of decree ⑩ time during which proceeding stands shall be excluded

- time for which defendant has been absent from India or territories outside India is excluded.

Right of redemption means the right of return or repossession of property offered as security upon payment of mortgage debt or charge. It is a right of a mortgagor against mortgagee to redeem the mortgaged property.

Sec-60 of Transfer of Property Act provides for right of mortgagor to redeem. It states that, it is an act of buying back the property after tendering the amount due to creditor. Mortgagor has right to redeem his property after paying off the debt amount. It's not time, a rule

It is based on time - Once a Mortgage always a mortgage. It suggests that mortgagor's right of redemption is an indefeasible right that cannot be taken away from him by any law or contract.

This right of mortgagor cannot be detached from the mortgage and it can be redeemed any time after principal money has become due.

But the mortgagor can redeem his property before his equity of redemption has actually been foreclosed i.e. all out of posse foreclosure has been passed against him.

This implies that mortgagor's right of redemption and the mortgagee's right of foreclosure or sale are co-extensive. As when mortgagor's right to redeem accrues, the mortgagee has right to enforce his security. However the terms of mortgage may limit the rule and where the limitation not unreasonable, it will be given effect.

This right of right redemption will have effect of return of documents and return of possession of mortgaged property under sec-60 ✓

The mortgagor may also require that instead of retransferring property to mortgagor, mortgage shall assign the mortgage debt to third person named by him v/sec 60A.

Along with it Mortgagor becomes entitled to -

- accession to mortgaged property under s-63 ✓
- Improvements made thereon under s-63 A
- to renewed mortgage lease v/sec-64 ✓

Ques 24 (a) Right of private defence of property extend to causing of death

Such right of private defence of property extending to cause death is dealt under Sec 103 of Indian Penal Code. It permits a person to extend its right of private defence to cause death only under certain circumstances as mentioned under the provision of the Code. Such circumstances are

1. When robbery is committed
2. When offence of housebreaking by night is committed
3. When mischief by fire is committed on any building; tent or vessel, which is used as human dwelling or as a place for the custody of property
4. If when theft, mischief or house breaking, under such circumstances as may reasonably cause apprehension that death or grievous hurt will be consequence, if such right of private defence is not exercised.

This right commences as soon as a reasonable apprehension of danger to body arises from an attempt, or threat to commit offence, although offence may not have committed but not until there is that reasonable apprehension. The right last as long as reasonable apprehension exist

(c) Doctrine of election with illustration
Section 85 of Transfer of Property Act discusses the doctrine of election. It states that when a person / transferor in same transaction confers benefit on owner of property and to transferee, the owner is put to election either to accept benefit of transfer or refuse it.

Its essentials are - that transfer should be in same transaction

- Benefit & burden must come from same transaction.
- benefit is directly given to owner

For example, ashwini proposes to transfer property of rohan ~~and~~^{to} Divyansh and gives 10,000 to ~~husband~~^{wife} of rohan. This is not case of direct benefit to rohan thus rohan has no duty to elect.

As stated benefit and transfer must be inseparable and interdependent.

(d) missing 9.

And in case person refuses to such transfer, he has to relinquish all the benefit so transferred and such benefits shall be reverted back to transferor or his representative

Such property is reverted back when

- transfer is gratuitous
- transfer has before election died or became incapable of fresh transfer
- In all cases where transfer is for consideration

Owner of property has choice either to elect by express mode or impliedly from contract.

Express election is final & conclusive in nature

In case where owner has full knowledge of circumstance and he being aware of his duty to elect accepts the benefit, it is implied that he has chosen in favour of transaction

But such owner has to signify his confirmation or dissent from transfer within 1 year after date of transfer.

There are certain exceptions to it - this doctrine is based on equity. If two rights are endowed on a person under any instrument in a manner that one right is more preferable than other, he is bound to elect on those only one of them.

This doctrine is based on maxim - qui approbat non reprobatur which means one cannot approve
